Yuuta, who doesn't believe in Hato's prediction relations..
I won't acknowledge prediction as a valid form of relationing!
If I ever do, then it would be saying that the efforts of all of us who practice are for nothing!

Do you think this is really gonna work?
Yeah, I think so
If you had run with confidence from the start,
Then at that time the pass will definitely succeed
The runners must keep a constant form until the takeover zone
Then, the next runner will set off
Go
I know the way you run

It'll be good if you paid a bit of attention to your legs and pace when you run
Then, after that, high-five and run with all your strength
It will be okay I know the way you run
He doesn't have any relationing experience, does he?

Accurate Prediction.
Why is it that you agree with him?
A relationer who does not know their runners will not be able to give effective instruction.
How to adapt to the runners' responses to given instructions in volatile situations is something that can only be learned via experience.

He has no experience at relationing.
And very little familiarity with his runners
Even then, he can succeed in the relation tasks...
He must have something that the others don't
If that is the case,
Then he should know it himself... yes?
